What our clients are saying

“Janet has now been my accountant for 3 years and I have been delighted with her services; I only wish I had changed to her years before. Friendly, expert advice and reasonable charges; what more could you want?”

“Janet is always friendly, efficient and supportive. She has been my Accountant for a number of years and she is a pleasure to work with. Her advice is first rate and her charges are very fair.

I totally trust her with my tax affairs and she saves me a lot of work and worry! I work in the media where deadlines have to be met and life can be very busy and sharing the burden of business with Janet is very helpful indeed. I thoroughly recommend her to you.”

“Janet Essex Chartered Accountants offers an extremely reliable service but you are also dealt with in a very personal way. To us, this was a revelation as we have had a number of accountants before this who showed little or no interest at all.

With Janet you are treated as a person not an account! Janet has also been exceptionally helpful and seems to go the extra mile in giving personal/business advice. We would highly recommend Janet Essex Chartered Accountants, our only regret is that we didn't find her sooner”

Why use a Chartered Accountant?

Legally anyone can call themselves an accountant and not have any training. Before becoming a chartered accountant and using the designatory letters ACA or FCA, ICAEW members must:

- undertake a period of at least three years training with an organisation that is authorised by the Institute,
- pass tough examinations embracing financial management, auditing, business strategy, taxation and IT.

The Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales, expects 'Janet Essex - Chartered Accountants' to maintain high standards of ethical and professional conduct.

A framework of quality assurance principles as part of the institute's Practice Assurance scheme, helps us to assess and develop our practice. It demonstrates our commitment to upholding and developing professional standards.

We must comply with the Institute's scheme of Continuing Professional Development (CPD), ensuring that our knowledge and skills are kept up to date. We must also follow the Institute's bye-laws, regulations, standards, and Code of Ethics.

As we offer accountancy services to the public, we have professional indemnity insurance. The Institute has a complaints procedure so that any dispute can be properly investigated.

Knowing that we have undertaken a tough training regime, have rules to follow and a reputation to live up to, you know that you can rely on the advice you get from Janet Essex - Chartered Accountants
